Wipro Digital

Wipro Digital's move to a dedicated space was an opportunity to create an environment optimised for collaboration. Their new 6000sq-ft office was designed as a tool for attracting and retaining talent in the intensively competitive 'Silicone Roundabout' area of London. The office's open plan work area provides a simple capable and communicative work setting for teams of designers, strategists, software developers and user experience specialists.

Whitehead's manufactured, supplied and installed the key joinery elements of the main working area's including custom designed desking, bike racks lockers credenza units and tea points.

The works comprised:-

- Batch manufacture of the key joinery elements.
- 3 axis CNC fabrication to ensure precision components.
- Polishing / finishing to a semi gloss finish.
- On site installation.
